

LEADERSHIP MARSHALL COUNTY

Leadership Marshall County is a community wide effort to identify, motivate and develop community leaders through a program of education about public issues and skills development.

2011-12 APPLICATION

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

1. To expand the leadership potential and skills of participants through:
 - education programs designed to broaden their knowledge of Marshall County and the critical issues affecting the County;
 - skill development sessions designed to strengthen those management and supervisory competencies necessary for individual success;
 - exposure to the existing leadership and civic organizations;
 - in-depth exchanges on relevant issues.
2. To improve communication among leaders by facilitating the expansion of networks within both the public and private sectors of Marshall County.
3. To foster a commitment to a life of community service by providing a channel for participants to gain access to leadership opportunities, and become involved in helping to solve community problems.

SELECTION CRITERIA

- Class members are chosen by a selection committee on their own merits according to the information provided on the application. Based on the belief that a significant portion of new knowledge and understanding of the community results from personal interactions within the group, the class selection process seeks a cross section of the community; men and women from different career, educational, political, social and cultural backgrounds including business, labor, education, government, religion, the arts, social services, health care, and community based organizations.
- Class participants have three basic similarities:
 - A demonstrated ability to achieve personal goals
 - A ready availability of time and resources to commit to community service
 - A demonstrated personal commitment to the Marshall County area and to our society as a whole.
- Application is open to persons living in the Marshall County area. A maximum of 24 individuals are selected to participate in the program each year.
- Nominees must have the full support of the organization or corporation they represent. Individuals may also nominate themselves.
- Participants are required to attend at least 80 percent of the sessions. Absences or lack of participation may result in participants being asked to leave the program or make up absences the following year.
- When more applications are received than there are spaces available in the class, the selection committee may be forced to eliminate excellent candidates with outstanding credentials. These candidates are strongly encouraged to reapply.

INSTRUCTIONS

- Please complete each section in full.
- Type or print in black ink.
- Limit answers to available space.
- Application must be signed by candidate AND by sponsor.
- One letter of recommendation is required. No other attachment will be considered.
